COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

THURSDAY EVENING, AUGUST 17.

THE allotment of Council drafts in London yesterday was again at 1s. 8d. per rupee, at which rate the full amount of 25 lakhs offered was taken up, of which about 16½ lakhs went to Calcutta and 8 to Bombay, Madras taking the balance. During the week ending Tuesday evening bills to the extent of 22½ lakhs had also been placed.

The shipments of specie comprise £70,000 Silver to Bombay and £30,000 to Calcutta; and of Gold, shipments of £20,000 are advised for Bombay. Bar silver is still quoted at 57⅞ per oz.

In Liverpool yesterday the Cotton Market closed with a hardening tendency, with prices as last quoted on the spot, but Americans to arrive are dearer. Low Middling Uplands for August-September by 3-32nd per lb.

The Manchester Piece-goods market yesterday was quiet, but firm at last quotations.

In the London General Produce market there are no changes of any importance.

Indian Bank shares are as last quoted.

The New York telegrams of yesterday report an advance of 1-16 cent. per lb. in ready Mid-Uplands and 1/03 cents per lb. to arrive.

EXCHANGE has been firm here all day, and closes strong owing to Calcutta advices. We quote :—

Hong Bills on demand	1s. 8d. per rupee.
Do. Do. Transfer	1s. 2 31-32d.	"
Do. 4 months' sight	1s. 8 5-16d.	"
Credits 3 "	1s. 8 1d.	"
Francs "	21 31/32	"

COTTON.—The only sales reported during the day are a couple of hundred bales to exporters. Prices are nominally unchanged.

SEEDS AND WHEAT.—There is almost nothing doing in these articles. Prices remain the same.

COAL.—There are buyers of Cardiff coal for August shipment at Rs. 16½, but sellers are asking as 6 higher; the tendency of the market is a little firmer.

FREIGHTS.—The Inchulva, which is the only ready steamer on the berth for Liverpool, is booking cotton at 37s. 6d.

PIECE-GOODS.—A small business is doing in the [illegible] and Spinning shares, at in many instances higher rates.

An electric light at the Band Gardens, another near the railway station, a third on the Bund-road near the police station, and a fourth near the Collector's office, would improve the comfort of the residents of Poona a great deal.

THE G. I. P. Railway Company give notice that from Tuesday next the mail train for Poona will leave the Boree-bunder Station half an hour earlier, or at 2 p. m. instead of 2-30 p. m.

MR. T. W. H. HUGHES, of the Geological Survey, reporting upon the Rewahcoalfields, says:—"The coal is good, and there is plenty of it. It is within one hour's journey of Katni on the East Indian Railway, and will form one of the most important areas of supply in Central and Upper India."

THE Education Commission—Messrs. Hunter, Deighton, Ward, Blackett, and Judge Mahmud—continue their sittings in the Thornhill Library at Allahabad, and yesterday an address was to be presented to Dr. Hunter at the Mayo Hall by the local Municipality.

THE reason why our Calcutta correspondent has telegraphed the safe arrival of the ship Rollo at Calcutta is that a report had been circulated that this vessel had foundered at sea. The Indian Daily News of Monday last said:—The rumours which have been freely circulated about town regarding the fate of this ship, on which were Mr. John Wilson's Circus troupe and about 220 horses, seem to have little or no foundation. The Rollo sailed nearly fifteen days after her specified time for Calcutta viâ Batavia. She had been overdue in Batavia when the report of her loss was started at Penang, where we have been able to trace the origin of the rumour.

The Poona Observer has "been given to understand that Colonel Malcomson has laid claim to the repayment by Government of the expenses he incurred in his defence in the court-martial of last year, but that the Bombay Government, as well as the Governor-General of India, refuse to recognise his claim. Colonel Malcomson has made a further appeal to the Secretary of State. It does seem hard to us that a military officer, coming honourably out of the very grave ordeal of a general court-martial, should have to pay his expenses just the same if he is proved guilty or innocent. Sydney Smith used to say he was only ruined twice in his life—once when he won a law suit, and once when he lost one. Courts-martial seem to be managed on about the same principle; whichever one gains the day, the accused loses. This is paradoxical, but true. We sincerely trust that the Secretary of State may see fit to allow Colonel Malcolmson his claim."

THE Hindu Patriot hears that the question of the salary to which Mr. Justice Romeshchunder Mitter is entitled while performing the duties of Chief Justice has been the subject of correspondence between the Accountant-General of Bengal and the Financial Department. Under a recent ruling if an officer takes charge of an office at the same station where he may be employed, he is not entitled to increased allowance for the first thirty days. The question was whether Mr. Justice Romeshchunder Mitter's case would come under this category, and whether his salary should be liable to one-third deduction because he is a native. The Accountant-General has given his opinion that the rule regarding charge allowance does not apply to the Judges of the High Court, and that Mr. Justice Romeshchunder Mitter does not come under the orders of the Secretary of State sanctioning two-thirds salary for Native Judges of the Court, as he had been appointed to the bench anterior to those orders.

Two more fatal accidents are reported as the result of soldiers being allowed to go out shikarring. The Poona Observer of the 16th inst. reports that on Sunday a ramoosi, named Jumoo wullud Dewjee, was accidentally shot by a soldier in the village of Ewat in the Shimthurry talooka. Three Privates of the C. Company Rifle Brigade—Jackson, Rossick, and Harvey—were granted permission to go out shooting, and whilst they were looking out for game one of the guns suddenly went off, and shot a native, the injury caused resulting in the man's death. Major Babington, the District Superintendent of Police, has recorded the statements made by the three soldiers. On the same day four soldiers from the Wanowrie Barracks went out shooting towards Kondhulgum, in the Haveilee talooka, where one of them, aiming at a bird, shot a Coonbee boy, about 12 years old, who was at the time in an adjoining field. This poor boy was removed to the Sassoon Hospital, where he died. Men inexperienced in the use of sporting guns, as the soldiers in both these unfortunate instances appear to have been, should not be permitted to go out shooting. As the Hindu Patriot remarks in connection with the recent Whittaker affair at Meerut, these cases of soldiers shooting natives are becoming much too frequent.

A PLEASING proof of the hypothesis that Indian official reports are nothing but vanity is found, says the Lahore paper, in the report on the Punjab license tax operations, for 1880-81. Never has it been shown more clearly that the government of this country could be carried on very well without yearly reports on every branch of administration. For two whole years after the measure was introduced no report on the working of the license tax was submitted to the Punjab Government—"in consequence of some oversight in the office of the Financial Commissioner." But the secretariat states the fact quite quietly; and apparently it would have cared very little if the Financial Commissioner had continued to overlook the license tax, or keep it to himself, for a few years longer. Yet, in the two years during which no report was submitted to Government, over half a million persons were taxed, and over 17½ lakhs of rupees were collected.

MR. PENDER, M.P., in presiding at the general meeting of the Globe Telegraph and Trust Company, referred to the great importance of maintaining telegraphic communication with India. He said, without fear of contradiction, that were telegraphic communication suspended for one week between England and India the consequences would be most serious. The commerce of the world was now carried on almost entirely by telegraphy, and it was of the greatest importance that all panic should be prevented as far as possible.

APROPOS of the expected possible French expedition to Egypt, the Ville de Paris has published a résumé of a pamphlet by Tomard, one of the members of the expedition under the command of Bonaparte in 1798, on the organization of "Regiments des Dromadaires." It appears that the regiment of camels, which was in existence up to the capitulation of Menou, numbered about 400 Frenchmen, European camel-men, and rendered effective service not only in Egypt but in Syria, were Bonaparte himself rode on camel-back. The scheme is attributed to Bonaparte after he had visited Suez. It is stated that camels, or rather mehari, belonging to the French service moved for days at a rate of 100 miles, and that it was only owing to their extention that Mourad Bey could be defeated in the Desert.

THE Russian St. Petersburg Gazette says now that England is entering upon a war in Egypt, the Russian Government should again direct its attention to the Bosphorus, which, "both by right and justice and by historical tradition, should belong to Russia." "All," it continues, "that is dear to the Mahommedan world—its faith and its historical recollections—will not permit the flag of a Christian ruler to wave on the banks of the Nile. The occupation of Egypt by the Russian military, followed by the unburning of the Koran of the prophet, and to what the struggle may lead it is impossible to foresee. Is it, then, our interest to oppose Islam? Our aims are well known, and to some extent approved, in the East, and our acquisition of the Bosphorus is regarded by the fatalist Oriental as merely a question of time. Our Turkish wars are not wars of Russia against the Porte, but of Russia against English selfishness and Austrian perfidy."

THE Times gives the following explanation of the damage to the two guns of the Alexandra during the bombardment on the 11th of July. One gun was a 10-inch 18-ton muzzle-loading gun, and the other an 11-inch 25-ton muzzle-loading gun. The 18-ton gun had got somewhat hot owing to the constant firing, and it was found that one of the wrought-iron coils of the B tube, which is at the muzzle of the gun, had started to the extent of a hundredth part of an inch. The gun did not go out of action, and it is still serviceable. The accident to the 25-ton 11-inch gun was somewhat more serious. At about 6 in the evening, just before the bombardment was about to conclude, a shell broke up in the gun, and it was immediately thoroughly examined, no damage being discovered. Another shot was fired, and the orders to the fleet to cease firing being given the gun was examined again. It was then found that there was a small longitudinal crack in the A or inner tube of tough steel. It was not, however, considered that the injury was a very serious one, and had it been necessary to continue firing this gun would have been used. The guns in Alexandria fired over 420 rounds. They expended all their common shell with the exception of 15.

SUBSCRIPTIONS, amounting to considerably over £2,000, have been promised in Barrow in Furness towards the proposed statue to the late Lord F. Cavendish which it is intended to erect there. A committee, comprising Sir James Ramsden, Mr. H. W. Schneider, Mr. John Fell, Mr. E. Wadham, and the Mayor has been instructed to carry out the project and get estimates from several sculptors of note both for a bronze and marble statue.

A POLISH journalist, M. Fryze, publishes in the Kuryer Poranny of Warsaw an account of an interview which he had with General Skobeleff, shortly before his death. M. Fryze began the conversation by remarking that General Skobeleff had been so much troubled by interviewers that the very sight of a journalist must be obnoxious to him. "On the contrary," was the reply, "I owe my present position mainly to the press, and especially to the English press. If it were not for the special correspondents, of whom there were always some with me during the Turkish War, I should have remained a major-general, and no one would have heard of me." The conversation then turned on political topics, and especially on the antagonism between Russia and Germany. "The Germans," said General Skobeleff, "are the enemies both of the Russians and the Poles; we should therefore keep together. We have sinned towards you, but who has not sinned? You should forget what has happened between us and help us to defend ourselves against the common enemy. . . . This is as much your interest as ours; and if you will not help us we can help ourselves. We have enough men to overrun and destroy at least a part of Germany. The Germans have more to lose than we have, and we can therefore do them more harm than they can do us. The Russian soldier, too, is more hardy than the German, and can afford to remain longer with the colours. The German artisan or agricultural labourer must leave his factory or his fields; and if he were away from them for more than a year the factory would be ruined and the harvest would be lost. A war in Germany, if it lasted long enough, would end in a social revolution. . . . The Emperor William has been very kind to me, but he should not call me ungrateful because I say that a war between Russia and Germany is inevitable. Je ne suis pas ingrat; je suis Russe."

CASES of conscience are always interesting, says the St. James' Gazette; but there is a peculiar fascination about the moral struggle which has been going on, it appears, in the mind of Mrs. Scoville, the sister of the murderer Guiteau. Thus she records the result of her spiritual wrestlings in a letter to the Reverend Dr. Hicks:—

I have a mortgage of 500 dols. now overdue, on my household goods, and I am negotiating with a clothing firm to buy Charles's hat, etc., for enough to meet the interest. Starvation and want stare me in the face unless I can realize something from his effects. Nothing but dire necessity induces me to think of my brother's body as an article of traffic; but as it has already been desecrated, I now offer what remains of his mutilated body to the highest bidder for cash.

The thoroughly business-like tone of this concluding sentence appears to show that, however agonizing may have been the mental conflict through which Mrs. Scoville has passed, she is now quite herself again.

COTTON FRAUDS LEGISLATION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—In the Bombay Gazette Budget of the 20th of June last it is stated that "a feeling is gaining ground in Bombay commercial circles in favour of the re-establishment of the Cotton Frauds Act in a modified form," also that "it appears that the withdrawal of the Act has brought into the trade a number of people whose sole business is to manufacture mixtures which, while satisfying the eye in appearance, will prove most worthless in yarn producing power. These before long will get into the hands of spinners, and the result will be that the old objection to Surats will become as strong as ever."

As I have had a lengthy experience of the cotton trade of Bombay and of the working of the Cotton Frauds Acts, I trust you will not object to insert a letter from me on those important topics.

I know that there has been some mixing of different varieties this year as well as in every other previous year since I know anything of the trade, but the percentage of adulterated bales shipped this year has been smaller than during any year since 1864, which is as far back as my experience goes. I can also state as an incontestable fact that Indian cotton never before held such a good reputation here as it now enjoys for regularity of quality and freedom from false packing. Since I arrived from India five weeks ago, many spinners have told me that the excellent cotton sent from India this year has been of immense service to Lancashire—has enabled spinners to use Surats freely, and thus averted to a great extent the threatened dearth of American cotton. In confirmation of my statement, read the following extract from Messrs. Smith, Edwards & Co's. circular, dated at Liverpool, 29th April, 1882:—"At one time it seemed doubtful whether the trade would go largely upon Surats instead of American, but that doubt is now at an end; spinners are buying and using Surats very freely; the excellence of the crop and the poor style and high price of low American combine to drive them in that direction, and it is clear that American will be relieved from much of the demand that would otherwise have come upon it."

I could give other similar quotations if it were necessary. It is, for example, a matter of notoriety that the Lancashire spinners have of late been frequently drawing attention to the great improvement in the selection, and the regularity of the quality of the bales, of Indian cotton as an example and incentive to America.

You are, however, quite correct in stating that certain Bombay sellers have this year been making mixtures of different varieties of cotton and selling them as Oomrawutee, Broach, or Dhollera cotton (mostly as Dholleras) but the buyers of Cotton who were scarcely ever, if ever, deceived. They knew quite well that the sellers with whom they entered into contracts were in the habit of making such mixtures, and the price was undoubtedly below the market value of the description and classification nominally sold. That is to say, if a buyer had, for example, stipulated that only real Dholleras should be delivered he would have had to pay a much higher price—probably Rs. 4 per candy more, which would be fully two per cent—than if he had contracted with one of the known mixers of cotton merely for Dholleras with no special stipulation.

If buyers and sellers both are willing to deal in those mixtures, no Government inspection, however stringent, can prevent the mixing. Did the Cotton Frauds Department ever really succeed in preventing mixing and adulteration? Read their own confession when they clamoured for more power and persuaded the Bombay Government to pass that outrageous Act in 1869 which Lord Mayo wisely refused to sanction, and never consequently became law. We were then told that Lord Mayo's action had irrevocably doomed the Bombay cotton trade, just as we were told that if the Cotton Frauds Department were abolished and the Act repealed, Indian cotton would soon become unsaleable, and its lost reputation be regained in Europe. Thirteen years have elapsed since Lord Mayo refused to give the Cotton Frauds Department the so-called necessary, but unheard of, powers which they and their friends demanded; and we have gone through two complete seasons since the department was swept away and the trade relieved from the payment of the two annas per bale levied for its maintenance. Have the doleful predictions been fulfilled? The reply is—the position of Indian cotton in Lancashire and on the Continent was never before so strong as it now is. The export from Bombay during the first six months of this year was more than 5 lakhs of bales in excess of last year's export during the same period, and is the largest export for any season on record.

For years prior to the introduction of the Machine-ginned the Broach cotton was full of seed and dirt, although Guzerat was one of the strongholds of the Cotton Frauds Department; but for some years past now Broach has been the most valuable cotton shipped to Europe. This year's crop is, twice it all is, all the finest crop ever exported, and has been selling at prices nearly approaching the value of "Middling Uplands," the standard American cotton. There is at this moment scarcely a bale of Broach cotton in Liverpool that is below "good" in class, and the bulk of the crop is "fully good, while a large portion is even "fine." The official Liverpool quotations of those classes of Broach are to-day as follows:—"Good Broach 6¾d., fine Broach 7¾d.; while Middling Uplands cotton is quoted at 6 15-16d. (There is no official quotation for "fully good," but its value to-day is 6¾d.) Now, what has brought about this great and wonderful change in the value of the Guzerat cotton crop? No person who knows the trade can deny that the change has been caused by private enterprise. The introduction of the machine gin and the high prices paid by merchants for clean, machine-ginned cotton have proved to all connected with the trade that it pays much better to send the crop forward well ginned, and free from the adulteration which in former years made Broach almost unsaleable.

The next best cotton this year is the Oomrawutee crop. For the first time in the history of the trade "fine" Oomra cotton has been a standard article of which large quantities could be safely sold. There was some mixing in Berar, but the bulk of the crop was well-selected and free from a admixture. Some of the mixed lots have already been found out in Liverpool and their proper value is placed on them, but "Oomra" as a crop is spoken of on all sides here as the best Lancashire has ever seen. And that is saying a great deal, because Berar cotton has had an excellent name since the crop has been for the most part bought and selected in the interior by exporters, although the Cotton Frauds Act was repealed in Berar in 1873. It cannot possibly be argued, therefore, that a Cotton Frauds Act is needed in the Berars, which have done so well without one for nine years past, and practically have never been under the influence of any legislation of the kind; for I found when I visited Berar in, 1872 that the cotton-buyers and sellers there did not even know that the Cotton Frauds Act had ever been in force in Berar.

Up to about twelve years ago all the sales of Surat cotton made "to arrive" were on the basis of "fair classification, and all the Bombay exporters consequently aimed only at making one quality of each kind of cotton that would average "fair." The wonderful change that has taken place of late years will be best shown by naming the classifications, all of which are higher grades than "fair," that the Bombay exporters are now guaranteeing in Europe whenever they make sales. These classifications are:—"Fully fair," "good fair," "fully good fair," "good," "fully good," and "fine."

As lately as two years ago there were no standards of "fully good" or "fine" at Liverpool, but as the Bombay exporting firms were guaranteeing to deliver cotton of these classifications, they had to ask the Liverpool Cotton Brokers' Association to make standards as bases for arbitration in "case of dispute.

This year the Broach crop has all been sold as "good," "fully good," or "fine," and the Oomra and Dholleras crops have been sold as "good fair," "fully good fair," "good," "fully good," and "fine." I should say that the average quality of Broach has been "fully good," of Oomra and Dholleras "good." Nobody can sell anywhere in Europe without giving a guarantee of classification, and the buyers always demand an arbitration when there is the slightest chance of getting an allowance or the contract cancelled. At Liverpool every contract contains a clause to the effect that nothing below a certain specified class shall be tendered; and if the cotton should turn out to be worse than the class thus specified, it is invoiced back to the seller at the officially quoted price of the day, plus a fine fixed by the arbitrators, but which is not to be less than an eighth of a penny, or more than a farthing per lb. The fine is consequently from two to five per cent on the value of the cotton, besides which the seller has on his hands a lot of cotton with the unfortunate reputation of having been invoiced back to him for inferiority of quality. Such a system of business exercises a control over the trade that no Government department could possibly obtain, even though backed up by the most stringent Cotton Frauds Act that legal ingenuity could devise.

If mixing and adulteration take place the only remedy is to wait until the buyers of the cotton pay the penalty in Europe; for so long as there are buyers at Bombay a supply will be forthcoming even if Government have relays of inspectors sitting in every press in the Presidency day and night. If those mixtures to which special attention have been publicly drawn do not satisfy the men who spin them, you may rest assured that the exporters will suffer, and be more careful in future. The trade, left to itself, instead of killing the cotton-growing industry, as was pronhesied over and again, has given Indian cotton the very high reputation it now enjoys. There will doubtless be always some adulteration, but there is now certainly less of it than in former years; and so long as the bulk of the crop is exported in a condition that calls forth the admiration of the Lancashire spinners, why should anyone clamour for a renewal of that Government interference which was so expensive and inefficient? This year's enormously increased export of cotton from Bombay, and the fact that Surats were never before held in such high esteem in Europe, effectually dispose of the old, oft-used argument that the cotton trade of India could not hold its own without being specially legislated for and protected against fraud by the Bombay Government. The trade is doing more than holding its own; the demand is consequently no "protection from fraud" legislation." Government frequently disclaimed all intention of specially legislating to protect traders who were quite able to protect themselves; the contention always was that Government acted solely on imperial grounds, that is to say, in the object of taking what they then regarded as necessary precautions to prevent India from losing her valuable trade in cotton.

I have written at greater length than I intended, but the importance of the subject justifies a full discussion. I hope that those who may continue the discussion will put their names to their letters. Anonymous correspondence on a public question of this nature is unfair and unsatisfactory.—I have, &c.

THE GRANT MEDICAL COLLEGE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—In his reply to the farewell address presented by the students of the Grant Medical College, Dr. Blanc very properly remarked:—"I think that one of the drawbacks of the system of medical education here is that it is too exclusively limited to a small number of teachers, and that the students have no opportunity given them of studying under other medical men." Emanating as this statement does from such an unimpeachable authority as the Principal of the Grant Medical College, the force of the above remarks cannot for a moment be doubted. At the present day, when medicine is rapidly emerging from an empiric art to a condition which should entitle it to a place among the sciences, and it is absolutely necessary that disease, which, like the chameleon, is constantly changing, should be studied in its various phases and aspects; and hence the practical training required for the medical profession must be as liberal as possible. In a city like Bombay, where there are so many flourishing public hospitals and kindred institutions under the administration of experienced medical officers of Government, it is greatly to be regretted that hitherto no efforts have been made with a view to encourage young men who are aspiring to University degrees to avail themselves of the vast opportunities of observing human sufferings afforded outside the J. J. Hospital. During the last few years the Bombay Government has evinced, one must admit, a certain amount of interest in the sanitary education, by founding schools at considerable expense in different parts of the mofussil for the training of subordinates for the public service,—a step which will, no doubt, eventually bear its fruit among the masses of the people, but which, nevertheless will, I venture to think, be powerless to influence for good or for evil the status of higher medical education in the Presidency. It is to be hoped, therefore, that Dr. Blanc's suggestion will not be entirely lost on the powers that be in matters educational, and that able to keep pace with the times, it is not a radical change that is called for, but a slight modification of the system now obtaining at the Grant Medical College. The local institutions like the European General Hospital and the Goculdas Tejpal Hospital were affiliated to the University and the medical alumni compelled to attend a course of clinical instruction at either, in addition to that at the J. J. Hospital, the efficiency of the men sent out annually by the University as qualified medical practitioners would be considerably augmented, and their varied experience brought to bear successfully on patients under their care. A scheme like the above, though simple, cannot fail to further the interests of the profession at large.

Baroda, Aug. 16. M. B.

BARODA AFFAIRS.

A CORRESPONDENT writes from Baroda, August 16:—There has been a deal said and written about the Dewanship of Baroda in succession to Sir T. Madhavrao, who will soon retire. The names of three Hindu gentlemen of very high standing in Bombay are mentioned in the Baroda State, one of whom I am sure will meet with success.

Owing to the death of the ex-Gaekwar at Baroda, His Highness the present Gaekwar came to the throne; and it gave general satisfaction when it was known also that His Highness Government paid all the funeral expenses. The Gaekwar is winning golden opinions from one and all. I may note one or two facts. His Highness has established an English school for boys and girls, the children of officers in the service of the State. Again, H. H. is, I am informed, about to start a club for all his officers, and no doubt ere long "a mess will also be established. It is gratifying to note that General Watson, the Resident, is about to entertain all the officers in attention of this kind will be very acceptable to those who are with His Highness.

I may add that when H. H. the Rao of Cutch was passing through, H.H. Highness Sayajerao Gaekwar at once directed Sir Madhavrao to go to the station, and show honour to the distinguished visitor.

THE ORMISTON MEMORIAL MEETING.

A PUBLIC MEETING of the friends and admirers of the late Mr. Thomas Ormiston was held in the University Hall, on Wednesday afternoon, the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Kemball presiding. Among those present were Sir Frank Souter, Mr. John Fleming, Dr. Blaney, Col. Merewether, Captain Henry Morland, Messrs. James Thorburn, F. W. Stevens, H. E. Jacomb, Vurjeewandas Madhowdas, N. Byramjee Jeejeebhoy, Professor Peterson, Messrs. Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy, Jamsetjee Limjee, H. W. Barrow, Henry Curwen, Sorabjee Shapoorjee Bengalee, George Manson, Rienzi Walton, Griffiths, George Kittredge, Braham, Baird, Dr. Shantaram Vithal, Khan Bahadoor Muncherjee Cowasjee Murzban, Sunderrao Raghunath, and many others.

The Chairman said.—Gentlemen, it was with considerable hesitation that I consented to preside at this meeting, not from any lack of sympathy with its object, but I strongly felt that the place which I now occupy should be taken by someone more competent to do justice to it. But looking at this large and influential gathering, I am encouraged to think that our purpose will not in any way suffer from our shortcomings on my part. You are all doubtless aware, gentlemen, that the object of this meeting is to devise some scheme for commemorating the services of a man, who, in a recent leading article in one of our local papers, was well described as "a singularly able and energetic public servant who for nearly 20 years has been identified, perhaps more closely than any one else, with the material progress of trade, and the reclamation of a great area of valuable land from the sea." Mr. Thos. Ormiston, gentlemen, came out to this country in 1861 to join the Elphinstone Land and Press Company, of which he had been engaged as Chief Engineer by Mr. John Fleming. The reclamation known as the Elphinstone property was begun shortly before Mr. Ormiston arrived, but little had been done. He immediately reduced the number of workmen employed by about two-thirds, and under his system of discipline and organization the work progressed rapidly. The expanse of soft mud a mile long and half a mile wide, which had poisoned the surrounding atmosphere and had been a source of ever-recurring cholera among the hands then, was converted into a most valuable property, a part of it providing space for the expansion of the crowded native town, a part being given to Government for a good station of the G. I. P. Co., and 100 acres being laid out as building lots, a large portion of which was covered by valuable buildings, 9 miles of roads from 40 to 80 feet wide, and 10 miles of drains over 70 acres of wharf space, and two miles of permanent sea walling forming basins for the use of native craft. It is owing to Mr. Ormiston's foresight, gentlemen, that the land and the dock estates have never been separated, and the result of this wise policy is that the rapidly-increasing rents from the former will, it is confidently expected, ultimately defray the whole cost of the dock and its management, and end in making this a free port, thus bringing to this city an enormous trade, the beneficial effects of which can hardly be grasped. But I must not delay to speak of the great achievement of Mr. Ormiston's life among us that with which his name will always be associated, and with regard to which a few particulars will be interesting. Many of us may remember hearing them from Mr. Ormiston's own lips on the day which gave to Bombay one of the best appointed and most complete docks in the world, containing 30 acres of water space, and capable of admitting ships of the largest size. Mr. Ormiston told us of some of the difficulties he had encountered, and gave an idea of the extent of the work by the fact that ten million tons of material had been absorbed in the reclamation and over four million tons lifted in opening up channels and approaches at an expenditure of about three millions sterling. Like the rest of his work, gentlemen, it was completed within the appointed time, and well within the specified estimate. As a friend of his remarked of him "We have never known him make a mistake in his estimates." But at the opening many adverse opinions were heard as to the practical usefulness and success of this great undertaking. We all know now, however, how triumphantly Mr. Ormiston's own expectations have been realized, how the largest produce exporters of the place declare that without the Prince's Dock and its improved appliances, the late enormous trade in seeds could not have been done, and that already an extension is desired and considered clearly advisable. One instance of its great usefulness is now before our eyes in the facilities it has afforded to the Government for embarking promptly and economically an expeditionary force in the middle of the monsoon. The Prince Dock is not, however, the only improvement to our harbour for which we are indebted to Mr. Ormiston, he also completed the Prongs Light House, designed the sunk rock Light House now in progress, and gave us beacons and other landmarks. But we must not fail to acknowledge, gentlemen, in how many branches outside his own sphere of duty Bombay is indebted to this truly great man. He took a wide interest in all that concerned her welfare and improvement, was for many years a Justice of the Peace, and when the present system of representative government came into force, he acted for a year as a member of the Corporation. First we find him aiding the Bench of Justices with a plan for a system of overbridges between the native town and the bunders across the line of railways, which was carried out to the immense relief of the traffic. Shortly after his arrival he (happily for Bombay) inquired into a new scheme of drainage then actually begun, and on his explaining to the justices that it would throw the whole drainage into the harbour, the work was stopped, and he received their special thanks. He was equally interested in the improvement of our water-supply. In 1869 he was nominated by Government on the Commission to enquire into Captain Tulloch's drainage scheme, and to consider Mr. Russell Aitken's proposal for a supply in 1874. At the request of the Town Council, he acted with Colonel Fife and Mr. Wilson Bell in drawing up a report for the construction of the Tulsi lake, in accordance with which the works were carried out in their present form, though it appears that he at that time advocated that the lake should be made very much deeper, and with true precision pointed out that were the shallower depth adopted we should, as has been lately experienced, be drinking in May the dregs of the lake. We find Mr. Pedder, the late Municipal Commissioner, frankly acknowledging his obligations to Mr. Ormiston for his valuable suggestions as to the general improvement of our city. Again, Mr. Ormiston was entrusted with many arbitration cases, both for the Government and for individuals, and among these many especially mention the long-standing dispute between the Municipality and the G. I. P. Co., a very troublesome question which, after a particularly careful enquiry, was by his help definitely settled. As has been already observed of him, gentleman, in expected confidence and he inspired it. He was possessed of great commonsense, and was extremely cautious never to mislead those who trusted him. For these reasons he never had any real differences with the Directors of the Elphinstone Estate or the trustees of the Port. By both he was implicitly trusted, and he was never hampered. I have only further to mention, gentlemen, that Mr. Ormiston was a Fellow of the Bombay University and Dean of the Faculty of Engineering. He was also a member of the committee of the Sailors' Home and President of the Sassoon Mechanics' Institute into which he put new life, writing with his own hand a new catalogue, the original one being faulty and almost useless. "Honest to the backbone" was the character he earned some time ago, and with strong approval, has gone from us; but his works remain. Si monumentum quæris, circumspice! And although no monument is needed to perpetuate his memory, still I think it is requisite on the part of the citizens of Bombay that they should be able to express their sense of the loss which they have sustained and their recognition of the useful life that he passed among us (Applause). With these few remarks, I will call upon Mr. Fleming to move the first resolution.

Mr. John Fleming said the resolution he had to propose was "that it is desirable to commemorate the services rendered to this city by the late Thomas Ormiston, Esquire, C.I.E., member of the Institute of Civil Engineers; and that the general community be invited to contribute towards this object." The form of the memorial to be decided on at a future meeting of subscribers." Mr. Fleming said that he felt peculiar satisfaction in taking part in the proceedings to do honour to the memory of Mr. Thomas Ormiston. But these feelings were tinged with deep sadness, for Mr. Ormiston had lost a very dear and loyal friend. As was mentioned by the Chairman, Mr. Ormiston became connected with the Elphinstone Company through Mr. Fleming, and that connection proved the turning point in Mr. Ormiston's career with the deepest interest, and knew how thoroughly every detail of the work was carried out. He never knew instances of opinion regarding the action of Government in regard to the Elphinstone property; but he never heard it denied that the company did good work, and did it quickly, economically, and thoroughly well, the merit of which was due to Mr. Ormiston. It was true that the Elphinstone property had when Mr. Ormiston arrived existed for more than five years. It commenced work in 1859 in a very small way, by reclaiming a strip of land near Nowrojee Hill, and it was not until 1861 that it obtained some concession from Government, which led to the completion of larger works. These works formed part of a large scheme which was brought before the public by the Honble Arthur Crawford, but which was unable to provide increased accommodation for the growing trade of Bombay, but it was also designed to annihilate the filthy foreshore, which was the cause of so much sickness in Bombay. Many of the gentlemen present at the meeting knew that foreshore, but there were some, however, who had never seen it in its original state. There was half a mile of filthy mud giving forth most noisome and pestilential exhalations in the monsoon, and this was reclaimed by the work of the Elphinstone Company. Mr. Ormiston, shortly after his arrival in Bombay, as was mentioned by the Chairman, asked permission of the directors of the company to dismiss a large body of the workmen. He (Mr. Fleming) remembered well with what dismay that proposal was heard. The company was under engagement to Government to provide land within a definite time, and the completion of the whole work so as to enable them to obtain the high prices for land ruling at that time. Mr. Ormiston was aware of the fact, and yet had the courage to speak out plainly and declare the necessity of reducing the number of labourers, for then existing staff he was unable to control. Shortly after that he asked permission to put a stop to Sunday work; and that also was assented to. Mr. Fleming said that if the following would permit him to say a few words from the subject, he would like to address a word to the millowners and other large employers of labour regarding Sunday work. (Hear, hear.) He said that the Sabbath was made for man born to labour and doomed to earn his bread by the sweat of his brow. A beneficent and all-wise Creator had ordained that man should have weekly rest; and the employers of labour would get more profit out of their men in the six days' work by giving them from the worn out, jaded labourers working continuously for all the seven days of the week. (Applause.) In the case of Mr. Ormiston, although the number of labourers was diminished, as also was the time of work, yet the work proceeded with und

Estimating the damages at Rs. 2,000 a year, that would be for 20 years Rs. 40,000. At the same time inasmuch as it was not based on any sufficiently certain data, he did not think he should compel the defendants to accept it if they did not like; therefore he proposed to pass his judgment in this way: that the Court ordered an injunction to issue restraining the defendants, their workmen, servants, and agents from making or causing to be made noise in the said building so as to occasion a nuisance, disturbance, and annoyance to the plaintiffs as owners or tenants for the time being of divisions 2, 4, and 4 of the Grant Buildings, as previously mentioned, or any part thereof, and also from allowing smoke and cotton fluff to issue from the premises so as to occasion disturbance or annoyance to the owners or tenants such injunction not to issue in case the defendants pay to the plaintiffs a sum of Rs. 40,000 within a fortnight; in the event of the defendants paying the sum the Court to order an injunction to issue restraining the defendants from working the mill otherwise than with closed double windows on the side towards the Grant Buildings; also to restrain the defendants from allowing any smoke or cotton fluff to issue from the mill. The result of it was, therefore, that unless the defendants were ready to pay Rs. 40,000 an injunction would issue; and, if they were ready, the injunction would issue in a modified form restraining defendants, as now, from working otherwise than with closed windows and from allowing smoke to issue. The matter would stand over for a fortnight.

Mr. Anderson, for the plaintiffs, asked his Lordship to make an injunction against an increase of machinery.

His Lordship said that if the plaintiffs got an injunction in a general form they might apply at any time when there was a nuisance. If they had the injunction in a modified form, they would be at liberty to apply if any increased noise or annoyance was caused.

His Lordship, in reply to Mr. Anderson, said that the costs were to be borne by the defendants.

Mr. Russell, for the defendants, asked that the costs of the inquiry as to the amount of damages should be divided between the parties.

His Lordship declined to accede to this request.

AUGUST 17.

(Before the Hon'ble Mr. Justice West.)

A FAMILY QUARREL.

SHAPURJEE EDULJEE MISTREE VS. DOSABHOY HORMUSJEE BEHRAM AND OTHERS.

Mr. Kirkpatrick, instructed by Messrs. Ardaser and Hormusjee, for the first defendant, asked that the suit be dismissed by reason of the plaintiff having compromised the matter in dispute. Mr. Pirozshah Mehta for the third defendant, supported Mr. Kirkpatrick's application. The Hon'ble Mr. Long and Mr. Inverarity instructed by Messrs. Mulla and Mahomedbhoy, appeared for the Official Assignee and the fourth defendant respectively, to oppose the application.

Mr. Kirkpatrick stated that the suit was filed in 1879. He thought that the plaintiff applied for the benefit of the Act. About the same time an order was made by the court that security for costs should be given by the plaintiff on or before the 1st January, 1882. When the time for giving security expired, it was the vacation of the court. Meantime the plaintiff became insolvent, and applied to the Insolvency Court that his petition should be dismissed. Mr. Justice Bayley refused the application on the ground of apparent collusion. The plaintiff afterwards offered a rule nisi to withdraw his petition. On the reopening of the court after the Christmas session, the first defendant applied for the dismissal of the suit, but the application was refused, mainly on the ground that the rule nisi for the withdrawal of the plaintiff's petition was pending in the Insolvency Court. The rule nisi to withdraw his petition was subsequently discharged; and an application was again made to Sir Charles Sargent for the dismissal of the suit. It was then ordered that the amount of the security should be ascertained by a judge in chambers, and that the Official Assignee should have one month to elect whether he would continue the suit on giving security; and that the Official Assignee refusing or neglecting to give security, the defendants should be at liberty to apply to the court for the dismissal of the suit. In May last a summons was taken out to fix the amount of the security. In July last the summons was made absolute, and the Official Assignee was directed to give security for costs in Rs. 5,500 to be approved with the Prothonotary. On the 11th inst. the defendants obtained from the Prothonotary a certificate that there was no security for costs had been given. The fourth defendant, Burjorjee Rustomjee Mistree, had colluded with the plaintiff, and had made an affidavit in his favour. The learned counsel said all the matters were discussed before Sir Charles Sargent.

Mr. Mehta supported Mr. Kirkpatrick's application on behalf of the third defendant, the plaintiff's wife and the daughter of the first defendant.

The Hon'ble Mr. Long asked for a little time within which the Official Assignee would be in a position to give security for costs, remarking that this was a case in which extreme indulgence should be shown to the Official Assignee, who was moving in the interest of the general body of creditors. The first defendant had in his charge ornaments and clothing of the value of about Rs. 5,000 belonging to the plaintiff and his wife but which he did not retrieve them. The suit had been brought against him to recover the property or the value thereof. Yesterday on the application of plaintiff's counsel, a rule nisi was granted by Mr. Justice Bayley, requiring the creditors to show cause why the plaintiff should not be allowed to withdraw his petition; and the rule was made returnable on 25th inst. On the previous occasion, when an application to dismiss the suit was made to Sir Charles Sargent, his Lordship said he would not dismiss the suit. The rule nisi to withdraw the petition remained to be disposed of. Mr. [illegible] if on the 30th inst. the petition was withdrawn, the plaintiff's step-brother, Burjorjee Rustomjee Mistree, the fourth defendant, was ready to give security for costs.

Mr. Inverarity supported Mr. Long's application.

Mr. Kirkpatrick having replied at some length,

His Lordship ordered that the suit should stand dismissed on the 5th September next unless the application for the withdrawal of the insolvent's petition be granted by the Official Assignee or by the fourth defendant, Burjorjee Rustomjee Mistree, on or before the 5th September next.

THE ALLIANCE COTTON AND SILK MANUFACTURING COMPANY.

The first ordinary general meeting of the shareholders was held yesterday afternoon, Mr. Tapidas Varidas presiding.

The following is the directors' report:—

In laying before you their annual Report with the audited balance sheets and profit and loss accounts of this Company for the year ended 30th June, 1882, your directors beg to state that a net profit of Rs. 1,18,912-11-0 has been realized, to which adding the surplus profits of the old company the total profits amount to Rs. 1,36,930-19-7. From this deducting the amount of Rs. 71,620-0-0 already paid as interim dividend at the rate of Rs. 40 per share, there remains a balance of Rs. 65,310-19-7 inclusive of Rs. 3,000 set apart for Insurance Fund as per company's deed, and Rs. 450 for liquidators' and auditors' fees. Out of this balance your directors beg to recommend a dividend of Rs. 30 per share, and to carry the remainder Rs. 3,204-10-7 to next year's profit and loss account. Your directors beg to report that only half the silk branch of the mill was working during the last six months, in consequence of the smallness of demand for silks in Burmah, the principal market where our silk goods are largely consumed. This fact, coupled with the high prices ruling for waste and raw silk, is the cause of unfavorable result during the last year. Your directors have, however, reasons to expect shortly an improvement in the Burmah market, and a decline in the price of raw silk. Had it not been for these reasons, the results would certainly have been satisfactory. Your directors have pleasure in stating that as regards the cotton branch, it has on the whole worked satisfactorily, and but for stoppage of the mill from 20th of January to 7th February for the new engine connection, and again from 3rd to 6th June on account of the suction pipe of the new engine failing to supply sufficient water for condensing purpose, when we were obliged to work high pressure, and the consequent breakage of the machinery, the results would have been much more satisfactory. Your directors further beg to state that when the old cotton engines were at work the daily consumption of coal averaged tons 15 cwts. 2 qrs. 13 lbs., it is now 6 tons 5 cwts. 13 lbs. only due to the new engines, thus showing a difference of 3 tons 11 cwts. 2 qrs. per diem. A still further decrease in the consumption of coals is expected on the arrival of the large new steel boilers ordered from the well-known makers Messrs. Hicks Hargreaves and Co., one of these has already arrived and is being fixed up, the other two are expected in about a month. When the new boilers are at work your directors intend to drive the silk mill by the cotton mill engines. The expenses incurred for such connection will, your directors are assured, be more than compensated in the end, as is the opinion of the late and present engineers of the company. Your directors are glad to inform you that Mr. Jehangheer Hormusjee upon being invited, has joined the board. The factories and godowns together with the stock in trade, &c., are insured for the sum of Rs. 11,67,300.

The chairman said,—Before the report and the balance sheet are adopted, I beg to say a few words regarding the cotton and silk branches of this company. In the cotton branch your directors have adopted certain improvements in throstle frames to increase the daily production of the mill. The result has been far more than was anticipated. The difference is from 4·703 to 4·50 per spindle. With respect to the consumption of coals, you have already noticed in the report that the consumption is 3 tons 11 cwt. per 24 hours; so taking the present price of coal at 25s. per ton, the cost comes to about Rs. 21,000 per annum. You will thus observe that we have gained what we wanted by the change of the engines. This you will perceive is no small saving. There will be a further saving when the 2 new boilers are at work. The new capital, amounting to Rs. 2,90,300, raised, is made up of the following amounts, viz., deficit in old company on account of extra money expended than called up, Rs. 107,907-7-10, cost of new engine with mill gearing, &c., &c., Rs. 147,8-5-4, less amount written off by the old company, Rs. 66,500, which leaves Rs. 81,308-5-4. The working capital stood at Rs. 1,13,000 odd. The new company, in addition to the above-mentioned property, has a large piece of land raised to the surrounding level, which is available for many purposes. Respecting the silk branch of the company, your directors have before them certain overtures in view with another company, but till the course to be adopted is decided on, I shall refrain from saying anything.

The following resolutions were carried unanimously:—Proposed by the chairman, and seconded by [illegible] Hormusjee, that the audited balance sheet and profit and loss account for the half-years ended 31st December, 1881, and 30th June, 1882, be received, with the directors' report for the same; seconded, by Mr. Cowasjee Nusserwanjee Readymoney, and carried. Proposed and adopted, Mr. N. Byramjee Jeejeebhoy proposed, and Mr. Ardecheer Nusserwanjee Readymoney seconded, that a second dividend, for the half-year ending 30th June, 1882, be declared at the rate of Rs. 30 per share.

Messrs. De Quadros and Merwan[illegible]e Framjee were appointed auditors for the ensuing year at a fee of Rs. 200 each. Thanks were voted to the directors, secretaries, and treasurer [illegible] "for their able and satisfactory conduct of the affairs." A vote of thanks to the chairman closed the proceedings.

BOMBAY PORT TRUST.

EXCERPTS from the proceedings of a meeting of the Trustees of the Port of Bombay held on the 10th instant.

GOVERNMENT DOCKYARD CHARGES.

Read letter to the Port Officer, dated 20th June, asking for an explanation of the extraordinary over the estimate for repairing the outer light vessel at Bombay in the I. G. Dockyard. Read letter from the Port Officer, dated 28th June, describing the work that was done, and stating that in framing the estimate it was not anticipated that so large a sum as Rs. 4,098-9-4, or nearly 50 per cent., would be charged as commission on the work done. Read minutes of the Harbour and Pilotage Committee, suggesting that in future tenders be invited when extensive repairs have to be made to the Trustees' vessels. Read report by the Port Officer, dated 15th July, stating that he would prefer to have the repairs to light vessels made in the I.G. Dockyard, but the charge for commission is now so high that any advantage in doing so is more than counterbalanced by the extra cost, and he has, therefore, no longer any hesitation in agreeing to the suggestion of the Committee. Read further report from the Port Officer, dated 19th July. Read further minutes by the Harbour and Pilotage Committee. Resolution.—Government to be asked to allow examination of the accounts of these repairs to be made, as the Trustees cannot but think that there has been some considerable error; for it appears that repairs at first not extensive were made to the same vessel in 1876, but although copper sheathing was then used, while on this occasion only the cheaper material, yellow metal, the cost was considerably less. Tenders should in future be invited as proposed.

A HANDSOME GIFT.

Read letter from Mr. Hurjeewandass Bhowanbhoy, dated 7th instant, offering the sum of Rs. 1,250 for the construction of the eight drinking fountains which the Trustees have ordered to be provided at Prince's Dock. Resolution.—Mr. Hurjeewandass Bhowanbhoy's offer should be accepted with the best thanks of the Trustees. The Resident Engineer should be asked to prepare a design and estimate of a more ornamental fountain on which to spend the additional Rs. 110, such fountain to be at the west end of B shed. Arrangements should be made for the following inscription to be attached in a permanent manner to each fountain:—

PRESENTED BY MR. HURJEEWANDASS BHOWANBHOY, 1882.

TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION.

Read letter from the Agents of the Clan Line, asking for permission to put up a telephone cabin in one of the dock sheds. Resolution.—Sanctioned.

WHARFAGE FEE FOR MANGALORE TILES.

Read letter from Messrs. Wardlaw and Co., dated 24th February, asking that a reduction be made in the wharfage rate on Mangalore tiles, and making a comparison between Mangalore and country tiles. Read report by the Traffic Manager, dated 6th March, showing that if the relative values of Mangalore and country tiles be taken as a standard, the wharfage fee on the former is proportionately less than that charged on the latter. Read minutes by the members of the Bunders Committee and by Mr. Ollivant. Read further report by the Traffic Manager, dated 30th March, stating that very much the same space is taken up by a ton of either sort of tiles. Read minute by the Chairman, dated 8th August, showing that the rate of wharfage charged per area of roof covered was also in favour of the Mangalore tiles. It was proposed by the Chairman that no reduction be made in the rate for Mangalore tiles. It was proposed as an amendment by Mr. Parker that the rates on the ordinary country tiles and Mangalore tiles be made the same, 4 a. 4 per registered ton of vessel. The amendment was first put to the meeting, and was carried, and was then put and carried as a substantive motion.

The following were amongst the papers laid on the table:—

THE RECENT ACCIDENT ON THE E. I. RAILWAY.

THE following account by a passenger in the recent accident on the E. I. Railway near Nawadi has been courteously sent us for publication. About 6 o'clock on Friday morning we were awoke being thrown off my berth, and on recovering myself realised by the bumping and grating sound that we were off the line. Presently there was a great crash and we came to a dead stop. I found we were jammed on one side against a high bank, and on the other was a goods train, the engine of which was uninjured, but several of the wagons had the sides torn open, and the corrugated iron roofs torn off and curled up like paper, and the place strewn with the debris of wood and iron. It is thought the accident originated through a loose piece of rail. The trunk or tender next the engine went off the line, broke away from the engine and carried the whole train with it. Unfortunately a goods train was passing when the accident occurred, and the roof of a third class carriage caught in the first wagon of the goods train, and both were ripped completely open, and our mail van was upset, which brought me into a sudden standstill, smashing the dressing-room of the carriage next to me [illegible]

I should have liked to have sketched the scene—the rails torn up and bent, the goods train looking very sorry for itself, and our train in a much worse state. It was most merciful that the train went off the line towards the bank, and not across the down line. Had it done so we must have been completely smashed by the goods train, or had it happened on an embankment instead of in a cutting the consequences would have been appalling. How the natives in the 3rd class carriage (when they were so closely packed) escaped with so little injury is miraculous, for one side was knocked to pieces and the carriage full of splinters.

From the above account it is evident that this accident, like others which have preceded it, was caused by the want of supervision of the condition of the line. A loose piece of rail caused the derailment and all the carriages to leave the line, and the question is, not only who is responsible for this loose piece of rail, but how many more loose rails are there to endanger the lives of passengers. When the late accident happened near Arrah we were told that it was due to the shrinkage of the rails from the excessive heat, but this excuse will hardly avail in the rainy season. It may also be remembered that when an examination of the line near Ahmednagar was made it was found that spikes had altogether disappeared, or were so loose that they could be pulled out by the hand. If such a state of things does not show a want of proper supervision, we do not know what does. Though no lives have been lost on this occasion, the escape of the passengers from the upsetting of the train and the passing goods train was little short of miraculous, and we hope that Government will cause a strict special enquiry to be made in the case. But until Government deputes some qualified officer to thoroughly examine and report upon the condition of the permanent way, passengers by the Indian Railway will feel but little confidence of getting through the journey in safety.—Englishman.

BENGAL.

DINNER TO THE ACTING CHIEF JUSTICE.—A dinner was given at Bansard's Hotel de Paris, on Saturday evening, to the Hon'ble Romesh Chunder Mitter, the officiating Chief Justice, by some of the members of the legal profession. Covers were laid for twenty-five. A few speeches were made, but as the affair partook more of the nature of a friendly display of good will, rather than that of a public demonstration, we are constrained to confine ourselves simply to the mention of the fact that such an entertainment did not take place.—Statesman.

MADRAS.

THE DEWAN OF COCHIN.—To-day (August 15) being the close of the current Malabar year, Mr. T. T. Gounda Menon, the Dewan of Cochin, will retire on a pension, and Mr. R. Raman Menon who was formerly a District Munsiff in Malabar, and is the present High Court Judge of the Travancore Government, will succeed him on a salary of Rs. 1,000 per mensem.—Madras Mail.

[illegible] Jailor of the Tanjore District Jail, and warder Goodoomiah, who were convicted for bribery and sentenced to three and six months rigorous imprisonment respectively by the Assistant Magistrate of Tanjore, on a charge preferred by a convict who was undergoing sentence, appealed against the finding to Mr. G. A. Parker, the Sessions Judge of the District, through his Pleader, Mr. G. T. Oliver. The learned Judge, after hearing the arguments of the Pleader, and on the perusal of the records connected with the case, quashed the conviction of the Lower Court, and ordered the prisoners to be released, on the grounds that the principal witness for the prosecution is a notorious thief. The character of the complaint himself was proved to be immoral. The evidence of the Jail Superintendent, Dr. Lloyd was strongly in favour of the Jailor.—Madras Mail.

DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL.—Palatableness and the facility with which it is digested are distinctive characteristics of Dr. de Jongh's Cod Liver Oil. Dr. Granville, F. R. S., author of "The Spas of Germany," writes:—"Dr. de Jongh's Light Brown Cod Liver Oil does not cause the nausea and indigestion too often consequent on the administration of the Pale Oils. Being, moreover, much more palatable, Dr. Granville's patients have themselves expressed a preference for Dr. de Jongh's Light Brown Cod Liver Oil." THOUSANDS OF TESTIMONIALS FROM ALL PARTS

CURE OF RHEUMATISM AND SCORBUTIC ERUPTION.

The Elms, North Cheam, Surrey, S., 8th March 1875.

"SIR,—I had been suffering from rheumatism for several years, together with scorbutic eruption of the skin, of a local nature, about the size of the palm of the hand, and was induced to try your Blood Mixture in consequence of two gentlemen in my neighbourhood having been cured of obstinate sore on the body. After taking two bottles I became much better, and continued it up to the tenth bottle, when I found the rheumatism had left me, and my arm was healed. I consider it a most valuable medicine.

"You are at liberty to use this letter in any way you think proper, for the benefit of others.

"Faithfully yours
"THOMAS WATTS."

STANDARD POLICIES.

LAST year the amount of New Assurances effected by the Standard Life Office was of £1,400,000 sums assured, and is believed to be the largest business transacted in the year by any office in the United Kingdom. This result is no doubt to be attributed in great measure to the freedom from restrictions which marks the STANDARD POLICY, and to the name the Company has acquired for sound and liberal management.

DETAILS of the Investments (Five and three quarter million Pounds Sterling) and other information may be obtained on application.
